FEATURING ...

"THE ESSENTIAL NEED FOR ORTON GILLINGHAM BASED READING INSTRUCTION"

Kathy Chappell-Muncy, M.S. is a 36 year veteran of Fresno schools with over 20 years of teaching and training experience in Orton Gillingham methodologies. She has worked as a State and Federal Program Director and Literacy Coach and has a M.A. in Reading and Literacy with an emphasis on English Language Learners (ELL).

"WHY JOHNNY CAN'T REMEMBER WHAT HE READ"

Jay Kelly, M.A. has over 17 years of experience in teaching, writing and training. His current work focuses on training teachers to work with struggling readers, working one-on-one with students, and developing practical teaching strategies for struggling readers based on current neurological research. Jay holds a M.A. in Philosophy from the University of Oklahoma. His research included an emphasis on critical thinking processes, logic and the philosophy of mind.

"DYSLEXIA: FROM SYMPTOMS TO SOLUTIONS"

Shantell Barrett holds an English and Secondary Education Degree from Brigham Young University. She is certified in the Davis Reading Method for Dyslexia and is an Iren Syndrome screener. Currently, Shantell is the Director of Training for Reading Horizons and travels the country to train teachers on the best methods for helping struggling readers. Her interest in dyslexia began when she found out her own son had dyslexia.
